ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND THE KI

MONDAY NOVEMBER 1, 2021 AT 6:30 P.M. EDT

Join Koch Institute investigators on Zoom for a with/in/sight event exploring the relationship between laboratory research and entrepreneurship. From drug discovery to disease detection and cancer immunotherapy, this evening's featured startup companies began in MIT's academic community and are now taking the biotech world by storm. Hear from the founders themselves about why a startup was the right research move to turn innovation into impact.
